

Keynote by Liz Weber, CMC, CSP

How Savvy Women Lead!

Based upon her books: What Women in Leadership Need to Stop Doing & Don't Let 'Em Treat You Like a Girl

- Are you frustrated when your ideas are ignored or others get credit for them?
- Do you feel as if your position isn't respected like your peers' positions are?
- Do you wonder why you're not as strong of a leader as you know you could be?

If your audience members would answer 'YES' to just one of those questions, this presentation is for them!

In this fast-paced, funny, interactive yet content-rich presentation, Liz Weber highlights behaviors women in leadership positions need to stop doing and what they need to start doing to realize the leadership effectiveness, success, and rewards they deserve.

NOTE: There is NO male-bashing in this presentation.

Format: 45-Minute – 3+ Hour Keynote and/or Facilitation.

This program should be titled 'How Savvy Leaders Lead' because it's relevant to not just women in leadership roles, but to my entire leadership team.

Eric Flynn
COO, Ski Liberty, Inc.

This presentation is perfect for:

- Women in leadership responsible for developing other leaders and teams
- Women in leadership looking to enhance their influence and impact
- Women in leadership who want to elevate their leadership communication and skills

The audience will leave knowing how to:

- Identify which behaviors to start and which to stop to be savvy leaders
- Create a process for developing leadership skills in other women and men to build stronger, more engaged, and productive teams, boards, or organizations
- Communicate and lead with greater confidence, candor, and impact